COMMENTS FROM GUEST: Dean of Graduate Studies and Research, Phil Romig

1. Romig addressed the Senate on protocols of the Graduate Council. Graduate Council advises the Dean and Graduate Council of administrative matters but the Dean and Graduate Council recommends to the Senate academic matters for their approval. Dean Romig asked the Senate if his presence was necessary at all of the Senate meetings and the Senate felt that the representatives from the graduate and research councils could keep the Senate informed.

As an example, the Graduate Council is to present new degree programs to the Faculty Senate for their approval before they are sent to the CSM Board of Trustees for approval. A current issue is the approval of a Professional Master’s Degree in Petroleum Reservoir Engineering being requested by three departments. This program is scheduled for BOT approval at their next meeting, October 11, 2002.

After discussion by the Faculty Senate, Readey charged the chair of the Academic Standards Committee to meet with Romig and identify the issues of Professional Master Degrees. This committee is to bring back to the Senate their findings and recommendation.

The Graduate Council will address the issues of a student retaking a course to improve their grade point average and the criteria used to determine if credit should be given for a course taken at another institution.

Another concern expressed was who has academic oversight on continuing education at CSM?

The Senate invited Dean Romig to present these issues at the September Faculty Forum on September 25, 2002. Romig agreed to address the faculty on the status of research and graduate students at CSM.

POSSIBLE ISSUES FOR SENATE TO ADDRESS THIS YEAR

1. Professional Degrees
2. Reports from Strategic Planning Committee
3. Academic Oversight of Continuing Education

The meeting adjourned at 4:10 PM
